

RODRIGO JIMENEZ SANDOVAL / Costa Rica

Jurist specialized in human rights, gender and vulnerable populations.

Education: Law Degree from the University of Costa Rica, Specialty in International Law from the University of Costa Rica, Master of Business Administration from the National University of San Diego California, Master of Business Administration from the University of Costa Rica, Specialized Course in Administration of Non-Governmental Organizations from the Central American Institute of Business Administration (INCAE) and Doctorate in Human Rights from the University of Costa Rica. National University of Ireland (thesis pending)

Teaching Experience:

Costa Rica: Master's Degree in Human Rights from the United Nations University for Peace; Master's Degree in Women's Human Rights from the National University of Costa Rica; Master's Degree in Disability Studies University of Costa Rica; Master's Degree in Constitutional Law from the State Distance Learning University, Master's Degree in Human Rights from the National University of Costa Rica; Law Degree, University of Costa Rica; Law Degree from the Autonomous University of Central America.